Hon. W. O. Boyd

SUCCUMBS TO BRIGHT'S DISEASE AT HIS HOME IN GRAFTON.

GRAFTON, W. Va., Nov. 25.—After an illness of several months of Bright's disease, William O. Boyd died at his home here, aged 71 years. Mr. Boyd was a veteran of the Sioux Indian war and the Civil war, in both of which struggles he served with distinction.

After the Civil war he entered the service of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and for many years ran on the third division between Grafton and Cumberland, as freight conductor. In 1896 he was elected mayor of Grafton on the Republican ticket and was re-elected the following year. After the close of his second term he went into retirement for three years and in 1899 was again elected mayor. He was again re-elected the following year and again in 1901, making five terms in all he served Grafton as its mayor, a distinction that is enjoyed by no other citizen of the city. Mr. Boyd is survived by one son, Charles, who resides in Grafton. The funeral took place this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the late residence, Rev. C. L. Trawin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated, and the interment will be made in the Blount cemetery.

Cannon Mild

HE DOES HAS NO INTENTION OF INDULGING IN A FIGHT WITH PRESIDENT TAFT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon does not want any fight with William Howard Taft.

That is the way politicians interpret the speech made at a gathering of business men here at which the six admirals who came to Chicago to attend the annual naval banquet, were entertained.

Cannon took up the subject of the next congress and of tariff revision. "Three years ago I followed the lead of Theodore Roosevelt," he said, "who declared that there should be no revision until after the next general election. As a member of the next House of Representatives I am going to see to it, so far as my vote is concerned, that the policy of the Republican party is written into the national laws as promptly as possible."

FAVORABLE COMMENT

FROM LEADING NEWSPAPERS REGARDING ROYAL HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA.

The Royal Hungarian Orchestra which appears here on Saturday night at the Opera House has received flattering reception in the larger cities as is shown by the following testimonials. The Philadelphia Item speaks as follows:

"In the details of shading, phrasing, and in general finish it is certainly quite out of the reach of adverse criticism, and the unity and precision of its playing are a continual delight after the shabby and ragged 'Hungarian Orchestra' performance to which we have been accustomed."

The Boston Journal says: "The concert last evening at the Music Hall by the Royal Hungarian Orchestra was one of the finest of its kind ever given in this city. Twelve numbers were on the programme, but by round after round of applause, the audience heard twenty. The encores were even more highly appreciated than the regular pieces. The playing of the combination is characterized by pure intonation, correct interpretation and perfect unanimity."

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 25.—There are several applications for the position of secretary to the new governor, the position that has been held by General E. L. Boggs for the past twelve years. ## Nothing Like It

ABOUT FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING DIAPYPSIN INDIGESTION WILL VANISH.

Miserable is the man or woman who suffers from dread the action of Diapypsin. There are few diseases which create such misery, loss, drawn-out suffering, as indigestion. It pursues them before meals, after meals and between meals; they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go, though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure.

Tell such afflicted ones, dear reader, of Pape's Diapypsin; urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case. Such a sufferer would ever bless you, because five minutes after taking there would be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heart burn, or fullness and discomfort, no Belching or Gas or Eructations of sour food, Debilitating Headaches, Nausea, Water Braah and other symptoms of a sour, disordered stomach.

Pape's Diapypsin will digest anything you eat without the aid of the Stomach.

Diapypsin is a wonderful Stomach purifier and splendid to keep the intestines clean and fresh; then your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Diapypsin will rest the stomach and increase the gastric juices; this is what is mostly needed—more and better digestive juices—and no Gas—then indigestion and all stomach trouble will go.

Each 50-cent case contains sufficient to usually thoroughly cure the most chronic dyspeptic.

Address

all of us to remember. Whereas Grant, Sherman, and Thomas were of the old native American stock, the parents of Sheridan, like the parents of Farragut, were born on the other side of the water. Any one of the five was just as much a type of the real American, of what is best in America, as the other four. We should keep steadily before our minds the fact the Americanism is a question of principle, of purpose, of idealism, of character; that it is not a matter of birthplace, or creed, or line of descent. Here in this country the representatives of many old-world races are being fused together into a new type, a type the main features of which are already determined, and were determined at the time of the Revolutionary war; for the crucible in which all the new types are melted into one was shaped from 1776 to 1789, and our nationality was definitely fixed in all its essentials by the men of Washington's day. The strains will not continue to exist separately in this country as in the old world. They will be combined in one; and of this new type those men will best represent what is loftiest in the nation's past, what is finest in her hope for the future, who stand each solely on his worth as a man; who scorn to do evil to others, and who refuse to submit to wrongdoing themselves; who have in them no taint of weakness; who never fear to fight when fighting is demanded by a sound and high morality, but who hope by their lives to bring ever nearer the day when justice and peace shall prevail within our own borders and in our relations with all foreign powers.

Much of the usefulness of any career must lie in the impress that it makes upon, and the lessons that it teaches to, the generations that come after. We of this generation have our own problems to solve, and the condition of our solving them is that we shall all work together as American citizens without regard to differences of section or creed or birthplace, copying, not the divisions which so lamentably sundered our fathers one from another, but the spirit of burning devotion to duty which drove them forward, each to do the right as it was given him to see the right. In the great years when Grant, Farragut, Sherman, Thomas and Sheridan, when Lee and Jackson, and the Johnstons, the valiant men of the North and the valiant men of the South, fought to a finish the great civil war. They did not themselves realize, in the bitterness of the struggle, that the blood and grim suffering marked the death throes of what was worn out, and the birth pangs of a new and more glorious national life. Mighty is the heritage which we have received from the men of the mighty days. We, in our turn, must give up our lives to meet the new issues with the same stern courage and resolute adherence to an ideal, which marked our fathers who belonged to the generation of the man in whose honor we commemorate this monument to-day.

THE NEW COBLESS CORN.

Out in the State of Illinois one early autumn morn, a farmer found by accident he'd raised some cobless corn; now this is not so wonderful this present day and age—It's years since horseless carriages have come to be the rage. There's boneless ham and chicken, and there're seedless raisins too, and any child can tell you coreless apples are not new. More wonderful by far than these—you've heard of it before—it's Spartan Stain, which women use to make a scrubless floor. Spartan Stain is one of the greatest beautifiers of wood known. Manufactured by The Marietta Paint and Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. Sold by M. D. Christie, Drug-Gist, 300 Main street.
